LONG QUEST REWARDED BY PERSISTENCY

Arthur L. Tracy Says When A Man Needs Aid, Help Him

A DOMINIE SHY TOWN

Elbert Holland Halted Painting To Assist Dan Cupid

(By Celia Morris)

"Love Will Find A Way" was never more truly illustrated than Monday afternoon when Miss Dorothy Gray and Walter E. Thompson arrived at the courthouse and asked Arthur L. Tracy, whom they happened to meet there, where they could find the Justice of the Peace.

He Got Busy.

From that moment Mr. Tracy found himself playing the role of Dan Cupid, nor did he become discouraged when he led the young people to District Attorney James Busch's office and found he had left for Laytonville, then looked for the local superior court judge and learned he was busy in court. Deciding to ask for benefit of clergy, he first conducted the young couple to the home of Rev. Mark Pike of the Methodist church, but it was evident he was away as the bell was not answered and the day's mail lay untouched on the porch; so the would-be bride and groom were next taken in search of Rev. C. Mosher of the Baptist church, which quest also proved fruitless.

Still Kept At It.

Meeting Father Quinlan on the street he was asked to officiate. Finding that impossible, Mr. Tracy declared he was still undiscouraged as he was determined to kiss the charming bride. He knocked at the door of Brother Theodore Matlock, of the Christian church, who was not home. At last a happy conclusion to the afternoon questing came when Bro. Elbert Holland was found painting the interior of the Christain church.

World Change Clothes.

He was quite willing to marry the attractive young couple, asking only time be allowed to change his clothes and spruce up for the occasion. The bride and groom-elect by this time wished no further delay in their plans, however, in which their guide fully concurred, so Rev. Holland climbed down from the stepladder, put his paint brush to one side and graciously officiated.

Kissed The Bride.

Masses of wisteria and purple iris were in the church, making a pretty decoration against the newly whitened walls for the impromptu ceremony. The only witness did not forget to kiss the bride. Miss Gray is the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gray, of Healdsburg, and Mr. Thompson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Thompson, of Redwood Valley. The newlyweds will make their home in Berkeley where Mr. Thompson is employed.

He Brought Luck.

Bro. Holland, in telling of the incident, says Providence surely has had a hand in his recent redecoration of the church, for, in starting it, he decided any fees he received while engaged in beautifying the building would be given toward paying for costs of the work, and this was the third occasion for a fee within two weeks, the fourth will be received Sunday when he conducts services at Upper Lake.

And Still Another Probation Is Given

Leroy Anderson, Napa truck driver who pleaded guilty last week to issuing fictitious checks here, was released on five years' probation when he faced Judge W. D. L. Held in superior court last week.

OUT OF HOSPITAL

Mrs. John Poma who has been in Ukiah General Hospital for the past two months following an emergency operation for appendicitis, is recovering nicely and last week was taken to the home of her daughter Mrs. F. Bricarelli where she will remain for another fortnight before going to Redwood Valley.

HAD FATAL ACCIDENT

Henry Nelson of Scotts Valley was killed Monday morning when a P. G. & E. truck in which he was riding met with an accident at Laurel Dell. Mr. Nelson was a lineman for the company in whose truck he was killed.

AUTO THIEVES WERE ACTIVE—SNARE 4 CARS

Two Are Abandoned; Vandals Could Not Start Them

ANOTHER IS MISSING

Fourth Car Driven To A Point In Valley And Deserted

Saturday night, according to a story carried in The Willits News, seems to have been open season for stealing automobiles in Willits. Attempts to get away with four Willits cars were made, the thieves stealing one belonging to Jack Graham, manager of the Standard Oil Station at Main and State streets.

One Machine Found.

A machine belonging to Bob Brown was stolen and was later found in the valley east of town where the thieves had abandoned it. Mr. Graham's car was taken from in front of his home on Valley street. The loss was noticed within a few minutes but no trace of the car has been found, although the police sent out the regular warnings all over the state.

Could Not Start Them.

An attempt was made to take Art Tweedy's car from in front of his house on Valley street. The auto was pushed as far as Main street where it was abandoned when the thieves faied to get the engine to run. A similar try on a car belonging to L. V. Ruelle failed for the same reason.

GUALALA RIVER TO BE CLOSED

Protection Of Fish Is Given As Reason By State Officials

All tidewater and water in the lagoon at the mouth of the Gualala river and water flowing upstream from the lagoon to the confluence of the river with the north fork of the Gualala river, will be closed to trout fishermen from May 1 to October 31, inclusive, each year.

Clerk Notified.

Announcement of the new ruling was sent to County Clerk Harry M. Burke by George D. Nordenholt, director of natural resources of California.

For Protective Reasons.

The ruling is in line with similar ones designed to protect the trout with which the fish and game commission has stocked many California streams. Protection of the fish insures larger growth and more successful propagation, and creating an adequate supply of trout eggs for fish hatcheries. The state commission feels that such rulings improve general fishing conditions, according to Mr. Nordenholt.

Has Been Approved.

Governor F. F. Merriam approved the ruling, which will affect both Sonoma and Mendocino counties, and a copy was dispatched to Clerk Burke immediately following its adoption.

T. Poulos Motoring East And To Canada

Tom Poulos left Thursday for a trip to the east and Canada. Going to Vallejo he joined friends with whom he is motoring to Pittsburgh, Pa. Following a short sojourn on the eastern coast he will go to Detroit, Michigan, to take delivery of a new Dodge car which he is securing through the W. G. Cox Dodge agency, and which he will drive into Canada to visit a cousin in Manitoba. The return trip to Ukiah will be made via Seattle and the northern coast route.

(By James Adam, Publicity Director)

Plans for the official dedication to traffic of the Golden Gate Bridge May 28 are now being worked out by directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District in co-operation with officials of the Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta.

To Deliver Address.

Francis F. Keesling, noted San Francisco attorney, and former director of the bridge district, and gifted speaker, is to be orator of the day. Mr. Keesling was prominently identified with the building of the bridge from the time of its inception, and served many years as chairman of the district's building committee.

Where Ceremonies Begin.

It is planned to have the ceremonies start on the Marin county side of the mighty bridge with the dedication of the Waldo approach. The Waldo approach dedication is in charge of a committee representing the Redwood Empire counties, headed by Harry Ridgway. This committee has mapped an impressive program for the approach dedication in which bridge directors, city, state and federal officials will participate.

Nationwide Hook-up.

Mr. Keesling will speak at the ceremonies on the San Francisco end of the bridge at Crissy Field, where a crowd of 25,000 will assemble. His speech will be broadcast to the nation through arrangements with the three national radio broadcasting systems.

Willits In Line.

"The Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta Committee, of which M. E. Potter is chairman, held a meeting Tuesday to take final action on what kind of participation Willits would take in the big celebration," says The Willits News. "It was decided to abandon the idea of taking the Frontier Days yoke of oxen and covered wagon, as it had been demonstrated we could not enter them in the parade unless they were placed at the end of the procession, which was not satisfactory to the local committee. It was decided to donate $125 to the fund being raised for a Mendocino county float. This float will be built in San Francisco under the direction of Rudy Theurkaup, said to be the world's greatest float creator. The float will give an outline of the vacational attractions of Mendocino county, including camping, hunting and fishing. Several of the county's most attractive young women will ride on the float, one of whom will be a girl from the Willits high school.

Do It Right.

"The committee decided to have the boys' drum and bugle corps and cowboy orchestra as official Willits representatives. A fund is now being raised for their expenses while in the city to which all citizens are asked to subscribe. Quite a number of horseback riders will be in the big parade and these riders will be evenly divided in front of and at the rear of the Mendocino county float."

"So the People May Know"

THE END IS NEAR

"The Last Rivet"—a rivet of gold—was driven in the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday afternoon. It will stay where it is driven. Charles H. Segerstrom, donor of the rivet, yesterday made known his desire in this respect to Arthur M. Brown, Jr., general chairman of the Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta.

The Last Spike that joined the Central Pacific and the Union Pacific into the first transcontinental railway is now one of the most highly treasured possessions of the Trustees of Stanford University and is kept in a bank vault.

But if Mr. Segerstrom's suggestion is followed the Last Rivet will never be removed from the bridge. The gold in the rivet comes from the Bret Harte-Mark Twain country. It is 14-karat and with the alloys of tin, copper and aluminum weighs 16 ounces in all. Its value is about $450. Because of the alloy it could be heated in a charcoal brazier like steel and tossed into a riveter's bucket. Or if the bridge engineers preferred, it could be riveted cold with a riveting hammer, because of the malleability of the gold.

The ceremony of the Last Rivet followed closely the ceremony at Promontory, Utah, May 10, 1869, when the last spike was driven. Edward Stanley, who drove the first rivet in the bridge, drove the last. Moving picture men took news reel pictures. A battalion of the Sixth Coast Artillery was present with the band, for the bridge lies between two forts of the harbor defenses of San Francisco. Three little queens, representing Miss California, Miss Canada and Miss Mexico, took part in the ceremony for the bridge breaks the last major barrier to an all-wheel highway from Canada to Mexico.

One month from now the Golden Gate Bridge, completed, will be turned over to the people. Enough money will be in the treasury to pay interest on the $35,000,000 bond issue for six months and, in addition, there will be in excess of $300,000 besides. The writer has been a member of the Board of Directors the past eight years and assures the public the Directors who are concluding their stewardship have done their work well.

ODD WORKING PLANS FOUND IN FISH DEAL

Usual Intelligence Is Discovered In Lake New Deal Policy

THROWING BACK CARP

Indians Get Relief—Plan Works In A Pest Raiser

Under permit secured from the California Fish and Game Commission, at the instance of the Federal Biological Survey and the Indian Affairs department, Lake county and Mendocino county Indians are now allowed to use seines for the taking of Clear Lake rough fish. Seines are loaned to them by the fish and game division and the casting of the nets must be under either personal supervision of local wardens or of men so deputized.

Wrong Story Started.

At the present time the Indians are taking only black fish, one of their favorite foods. On Saturday and Sunday, Indians from both Lower Lake rancheria and Ukiah were out with their seines at a point opposite Garner's Lakeside Resort. Quickly a rumor spread through the district the redmen had brought in several hundred pounds of catfish and bass. Indignation waxed rife, as it were.

Had A Permit.

It was found, however, that the Indians were properly fortified with permits. On Saturday they were under care of Game Warden E. J. Johnson and an assistant. On Sunday a local deputy accompanied them on their seining excursion.

Seines Safeguarded.

Between catches the seines at the south end of the lake are surrendered to a custodian and put under lock and key at the Lakeside Resort, to be taken out only on orders of proper authority.

A Queer Plan.

The nettings on the weekend disclosed the abundance of forked tails, bass and catfish to be found. All these fish were sorted out and returned to the water. Just why the seiners should be allowed to put the carp back into the lake is another question! For years a campaign has been carried on to try and exterminate the carp which have spoiled Clear Lake as a fishing fresh water body.

OIL WELL HILL WORK RESTARTS

Hemstreet & Bell started work Monday to complete their highway contract over Oil Well hill. The new road stood up very well during the past winter and will require but little grading and leveling. The contractors will now put on the surface coat of oil and rock screenings. If this good weather continues, they should have their contract finished some time next month.

Gas Station At Willits Raided

The Standard Oil Company's distributing plant in Willits was burglarized Monday night. Entrance to the building was gained by breaking a window and when the force showed up the following morning it was discovered about 30 gallons of gasoline and a like amount of kerosene had been stolen. The gas and oil was all in sealed five-gallon cans, with two cans in each case.

Here To Assist Liquor Control

Chas. E. Cameron, liquor control officer of the State Board of Equalization, arrived from San Diego yesterday to assist F. L. Fisk in his duties as local liquor control officer of the board. Mr. Cameron will remain for an indefinite stay in Ukiah.

HOME AND WELL

Walter Brown is being welcomed home and congratulated by many friends these days following his recent return from Fort Miley Hospital where he was seriously sick many weeks. While not fully recovered Mr. Brown will at once begin looking after his business here.

THE RIGHT TIME

One of the four auto parties that left San Francisco in an effort to determine the fastest "safe driving" time to certain resort sectors of the state, arrived at Diamond D ranch, near Willits, in just three hours and 44 minutes after leaving the city.

UKIAHANS TO GO TO CIRCUS

Local People Will Be Santa Rosa Minded On May Fourth

MANY WILL GO

A large outpouring of circus fans are arranging their affairs so as to be at Santa Rosa for the evening performance of Barnes-Sells-Floto Show and the road from the Sonoma metropolis north, after the circus, will assume the appearance of the arrival of a ferry at Sausalito, on a larger scale, however.

Offering the largest array of world famous arenic stars ever presented in history the great Al G. Barnes and Sells Floto Combined Circus is scheduled to exhibit in Santa Rosa Tuesday, May 4.

Takes Three Trains.

The World's Best Circus will arrive on three double length trains, carrying over 1000 people, five herds of elephants, 400 horses, not to mention the vast army of tents necessary to house this small army, and the superb new menagerie that includes over 800 furred and feathered creatures.

Many New Features.

New European troupes are the amazing Cristiani troupe, without question the only bareback riders in the world accomplishing a twisting somersault from galloping horse to galloping horse; daring and exotic Amerika, who features breath-taking feats on a lofty swinging trapeze, where without touching the supporting wires, she pirouettes and dances; The Flying Artonys, daredevils who leap across great spaces high in the tent and use no safety net; The Two Karleys, a new aeroplane thriller and the last word in sensationalism, and Louise Schroeder, the only girl in the world to stand on her head on a wildly swinging trapese.

A Great Menagerie.

The largest group of ferocious wild animals ever assembled in the history of the world are on display in the menagerie. These mean brutes, who defy all efforts to tame them, are twice daily herded into a triple steel bar amphitheater, where they are made to perform. The intrepid trainer is Bert Nelson, the greatest wild animal subjugator ever known since time began. His daringness is a sight never to be forgotten.

Famous Arena Group.

In addition to the hundreds upon hundreds of world famous arenic stars who make up the Al G. Barnes and Sells Floto combined Circus program there is a most elaborate opening spectacle titled Old Mexico. Using over 500 performers and 300 horses and animals in its presentation, it strikes a new note in beauty, never before witnessed.

DIRECTORS IN A DETERMINED STAND IN ROW

Army's Raid On Passes Rejected—S. P. Co. Bid Killed

FIGHT A PARK SYSTEM

Bill Allowing A Free Use Of Approaches Is Frowned On

Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District received their latest demand from the army authorities Wednesday and flatly rejected it, expecting the government would bring suit to obtain a ruling on the demand.

What Army Asks.

Latest of the army's demands is that all active officers and soldiers in the military service, along with all retired officers and men together with all their dependents be given free passage at any and all times across the bridge.

Tired Of Gouging.

Mindful of the army's demand for the building of modern concrete buildings to replace the war-time dilapidated shacks at Fort Scott, other requirements as to building of roads and viaducts and the most recent refusal of the army to permit Presidio roads to be used until the Funston avenue approach, long held up because of an impasse between the army, state, city and bridge authorities, the bridge directors turned a deaf ear to the army's demand for elimination of bridge tolls for thousands of its personnel, both active and retired.

Ferry Sale Offer Spurned.

Directors turned down a proposal from the Southern Pacific-Golden Gate Ferries, Ltd., that legislation be obtained to permit the bridge district to buy and put out of business the competing Marin county auto ferries.

Why Should They?

In side-tracking the proposal, Hugo D. Newhouse, span director, said in regard to the competing ferry system owners: "Let them sweat. We haven't anything to worry about from auto ferries."

All Bonds Sold.

The last of the $35,000,000 bond issue was ordered sold by the directors to a San Francisco syndicate, at 101.60. With the proceeds, the bridge will be finished, provision made for paying bond interest through January 1 next, leaving a surplus of about $300,000 in the bridge treasury.

Army Refuses Use Of Roads.

The bridge will open with only one approach—along the Marina, General Manager James Reed revealed. He said the army had taken a firm stand against use of Presidio roads as a substitute for the lack of the Funston avenue approach.

Will Fight Bill.

The directors took an equally firm stand against use of the bridge approaches for trans-city traffic as demanded by the city and the state. They directed Attorney George Harlan to oppose legislation at Sacramento which would require it, even at the price of killing legislation the district is vitally interested in.

Give Patrons Voice.

The directors deferred action on the commute rates until next week, strongly indicating that the proposed 50-ride monthly commutation book, to be sold at $17.50—a 35-cent rate—would be made more satisfactory to regular travelers by making it transferable and good for from three to six months instead of one month.

Complete toll schedules adopted were:

A flat rate of 50 cents one way for automobile, driver and four passengers; additional passengers five cents each.

Motorcycles and trailers, 25 cents.

Buses, other than rapid transit, with driver, 75 cents; passengers on buses from south of San Rafael, five cents each; north of San Rafael, two and one-half cents each.

Trucks weighing more than 5000 pounds, 10 cents per 666 2/3 gross pounds; weighing less than 5000 pounds, 75 cents, driver and helper included.

Pedestrians and bicyclists, five cents each way.

A WORD MISUSED

LACK OF ADEQUATE and impartial teaching of true temperance is deplored in answers to questionnaires sent out by the New York State Liquor Authority to heads of settlement houses. The old type of education is declared to be "hopeless" and there seems to have been developed no substitute. While the replies differed on the question whether there had been an increase in drinking since repeal, whether there are fewer excessive drinkers and whether temptations to young people have increased, there was practical unanimity concerning the instruction given to young people.

The reasoned conclusion of one worker is that "unfortunately the word 'temperance' connotes to many minds a teetotalism which young people do not accept. Most agencies promoting so-called 'temperance' are not giving the type of impartial instructon which will be useful in promoting real temperance." "The question raised deserves," says The Willows Journal, "an answer from all true believers in moderation, which is another meaning for temperance. It is a narrow definition of temperance to call it abstinence. Education is a slow process, but it is apparently the solution of this problem. As improved methods in sanitation have been developed, as progress has been made in improved public health conditions, as the lifetime of the individual has been lengthened by education, so eventually will this question be advanced toward a solution. But let us first use the word temperance in its correct meaning. That will be a start in the educational process."

A TRIBUTE

Editor of The Press:

I feel that the death of Charles Ackerman which occurred a few days ago, deserves more than a passing notice. He was an honest, quiet, law-abiding man who made no pretentions and never sought nor cared for notoriety or publicity, he and his brothers for more than half of a century, earning their daily bread and caring for those dependent on them, literally by the "Sweat of their brows."

For more than 45 years the Ackerman brothers, particularly Charles, William and Walter, have from time to time worked for me and those associated with me, cutting wood, peeling tanbark, clearing ground, digging ditches and planting orchards, and their work through all of these years was the most conscientious, honest and efficient of any group I have ever employed or known.

They were away from home in their camps most of the time, in the forests, in out of the way places, where there was no one to oversee or observe them, yet although working much of the time at a fixed daily or monthly wage, they gave as faithful and efficient service as if their employers were present with them all the time, putting in from eight to 10 hours per day according to the season.

They usually did their own cooking, and in spring and summer had their breakfast eaten, and were at work by seven o'clock, continued it constantly until six p. m., with the exception of an hour off from 12 o'clock until one for lunch and rest. In the late fall and winter their working hours were from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. I have frequently dropped in on them at all hours when they had no knowledge of my coming and I never found them late or idling.

Charles was the eldest, and was by common consent the business head, and acted for all in dealing with their employers. He was more than 80 when he died, and unfortunately had been blind for several years. William and Walter passed on before Charlie, Walter but a few months ago.

They were all expert axe-men, an honored and useful clan that is fast becoming extinct. Walter in his prime was the greatest in that line I ever knew. In 1896, they peeled bark for me at Needle Rock, and Walter on a try, cut and peeled alone in one day, between daylight and dark, 32 trees which yielded a little over six cords of bark. I have never known an equal record elsewhere.

Their deep affection and tender solicitation for their widowed mother and their sister were most touching.

The family home was always in Ukiah but they were away frequently for weeks and sometimes for months at a time, and invariably before leaving home, they came in and requested and authorized me to advance to their mother and sister whatever money they called for, and charge it to them.

William Ackerman some months after his mother's death, with deep emotion said to me, "A man's Mother is the best friend he ever has."

This generation owes a measureless debt of gratitude to the honest, rugged sons of toil, of which Charlie Ackerman and his brothers were worthy examples, for their constructive and indispensable help in developing and making our country what it is today.

More honor to them.

W. P. Thomas.

Sidelights of Sadness

Being incidents connected with California's State Prisons as observed by A. R. O'Brien, editor of The Republican Press, who is a director of the State Board of Prisons of California.

HIS WAS A STRANGE CODE

His criminal narrative shows he is today 38 years of age. The same history also proves that, as long ago as 1919, he was a desperate bandit, going about the country, armed, holding up people. At Hillsboro, Oregon, when he was only 19, he robbed a bank. Immediately after that he was involved in a bank robbery at Spokane. It was only a short time before he got mixed up in a highway robbery at Marysville.

The crime for which he was sent to San Quentin was the holding up of a taxicab driver, whom he relieved of some $35 and his cab.

He always ran around with a Mexican and the Mexican about two years ago was arrested in Los Angeles and he is now doing a long stretch at Folsom. When the prisoner came into the board room last week it was evident to anyone who has had close contact with convicts the inmate was one who had a lot of nerve. The judge who had sentenced him in Oregon remarked in doing so: "He is very young, but very old in crime experience. This man is a most desperate character." With a background like the one I have outlined above for you, it was only natural to conclude that, in the light of the big jobs he had been in and the further fact he always operated with a revolver, of necessity there must have been some killing and the fact nothing of that kind showed up in his narrative caused me to become curious.

He was con wise and he handled himself in the board room like the veteran he was. In the examination he underwent before us he made no complaints, neither would he make any admissions.

He was a trained electrician in his youth.

On a trip to the Orient on a freighter, before he started off on the road to crime, he had sustained a head injury, a blood clot formed in his head and for months he was in a Japanese hospital.

He was in the board room this morning to have his status determined.

He had done his stretch on his former crime up to the point where he was eligible for parole and had been paroled. Then he went into Santa Clara county and, alone, attempted to rob the bank in the little town of Los Altos. He had been found guilty of two very serious crimes before this in addition to a number of minor offenses to which he confessed at the time of his last prosecution.

In every instance he had a gun.

I asked him about the Los Altos Bank robbery. He told me he had operated alone. That he had "cased" the bank twice, unarmed. Then he got a gun and went in to hold it up. The cashier resisted and the prisoner ran out and was arrested.

Now this man would have no reason for untruthfully saying what I am going to tell you he said, because he had been adjudged an habitual criminal. He must do life, and, recalling the manner in which he talked, I believe he told the truth. "Why was it," I said to him, "after you started in on the job, you did not finish it?" The prisoner looked at me like a man will, when he is asked a question so completely out of all reason he seems unable to understand why such an interrogation could be conceived, and then he said: "I did not want to kill a man."

For 17 years he earned his existence at the point of a gun. During that long time he must have been in tight places, but he never pulled the trigger.

What would he do if he were cornered and actually on the spot?

I don't know. This convict followed a strange code that convinced him it was perfectly justifiable to rob others of their property, but, seemingly, human life was sacred, even when it came to risking his own to avoid taking it.

Tourist Trade Greater Than Gold Mining

That tourist trade is important to business men is strikingly shown by recent reports of Californians, Inc. This organization estimated that in 1936 the number of out-of-state tourists to northern and central California rose to a record high total of 1,318,635—an increase of 20% over 1935. Staying in this area for an average of 12 days, they spent an estimated $78,220,500 — an amount greater than the 1936 farm value of any single northern California crop and twice the value of last year's gold mining here.

In a breakdown of each tourist dollar spent, it is estimated that about 38c went for food and refreshment, 25c for lodging, 19c for automobile and transportation, 10c for recreation and clothing, and 8c for souvenirs, photography, and sundries.

SAFETY
SHOULD HAVE FIRST CLAIM ON
Gasoline Taxes

THE PROPOSAL to divert large sums from the State's gasoline tax funds to maintain a few big bridges takes no account of the growing safety needs of California's entire highway system.

In our network of approximately 96,000 miles of roads, the 6 big bridges total about 17 miles.

Since 1926, the State Highway system has been increased from less than 6,600 to over 14,000 miles . . . more than doubling the mileage maintained from funds expended at the discretion of the Highway Department.

Some Vital Needs

Following are some of the vital needs which these funds have been INADEQUATE to meet:

. . . 250 old bridges on State highways are posted UNSAFE for legal loads and need replacement.

. . . 1,000 bridges are too narrow to afford reasonable safety.

. . . Thousands of grade crossings should be rapidly eliminated.

School buses, trucks and automobiles have crashed and many deaths have been caused by these hazards. Yet gasoline taxes would be diverted from these uses to subsidize a few big bridges . . . instead of maintaining them from tolls paid by the users.

Sanctity of a Contract

Owners of the Carquinez and Antioch Bridges oppose their acquisition and ask the State to uphold its ratification of our operating contract which lasts till 1948, WHEN THE PUBLIC WILL GET THE BRIDGES ABSOLUTELY FREE.

Write your representatives at Sacramento to protect the gasoline tax funds, needed for general highway maintenance, from diversion to a few big bridges.

Let California Keep Faith!

STEIERTS WILL ENJOY THREE-MONTH EUROPEAN TOUR

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Steiert will leave Thursday, May 6, for a leisurely trip of about three months to beautiful Switzerland, their native land, and other European countries. Driving to New York they will embark on the North German Lloyd liner Bremen on May 22, taking their car with them, and arriving at Bremen on the 28th. Touring through Germany, Holland and Belgium, so lovely in early summer, the travelers will reach Zurich, Switzerland, where both were born, for a visit with relatives and to see again the haunts of their youth. Mrs. Steiert will keep her trip a surprise to members of her family abroad until she reaches the continent. It is 30 years since she has returned to Switzerland and 37 years since Mr. Steiert was there. Descending the Alps a tour will be made to Nice, Cannes and other points along the Cote d'Azure, thence down the Italian Riviera and on to Rome, Florence, Venice and Naples.

While in San Francisco last weekend Mr. and Mrs. Steiert saw Mr. Steiert's brother, Emil Steiert, leave for the Netherlands, Norway and Sweden, countries he has not visited before in his many travels. He will join the A. R. Steierts in Switzerland.

Mrs. Steiert's daughters, Mrs. Paige W. Payne and Miss Pauline Steiert, entertained her at a beautifully appointed farewell luncheon Friday in San Francisco, which was attended by 12 friends who came to wish her "bon voyage." The centerpiece was a stunning model of an ocean liner with serpentines trailing from it, and favors were also in keeping with the theme of the journey.

In 1900 when Mr. and Mrs. Steiert came to San Francisco on their honeymoon they had not dreamed of remaining in California, but were so pleased with the country they decided to remain. Since 1915 they have resided in Ukiah where they have taken an active part in the community and made many friends. Mr. Steiert retired from business last fall.

CAMPFIRE GIRLS

At Thursday's meeting of Campfire Girls Miss Ernestine Prather, leader, distributed newly received armbands and berets bearing the insignia of crossed logs and fire, as well as the new ties, all of which were earned by the girls and complete their neat uniforms of white middies and blue skirts. The next regular meeting will be tomorrow at the grammar school.

Table decorations, which carried a double feature of a beautiful birthday cake topped by glowing candles and place cards made by the guest of honor and bearing tiny candles held in life savers, carried out a color scheme of yellow and green in every detail. Guests were Raylene Pearl, Helen Salls, Jean Russell, Delma Thomas, Karina Carlson, Phyllis Davis, Ruth Kasch, Iris Tull, Barbara Wise, Ada Richey, Jerry Poulos, Billy Watson, Dwight Gibson, Harvey Slocum, Ralph Thomas, Larry Dawson, Dan Grothe, Jack Ford, Roger Smith.

This move is typical of the spirit of the club in its effort toward community betterment and is made at this time with the express hope other service clubs will take steps to expedite the purchase of the ambulance.

Guest speaker was Miss E. B. Sawe, librarian of Ukiah, who addressed the group on "Libraries and Their Service to Communities," stating she hoped all would take advantage of such service at the local library and that if certain books were asked for and were not on the shelves they would be sent for. Hugh E. Long, a Lion of Willits, was a guest and Paul Mathews was present for the first time since renewing his membership in the club. H. B. Ashton presided.

CLUB ENJOYED DELIGHTFUL ENTERTAINMENT

The Business and Professional Women enjoyed a Rainbow Festival Thursday at The Palace Hotel. Each of eight tables ranged in an arc represented some different rainbow color and held a centerpiece and eight corsages of the same hue. A large rainbow in delicate tints and sparkling with tinsel rain was on the wall opposite the semicircle of tables and beneath it was a piano banked with fern and flowers of many shades, while the half-moon of floor space held one colorful entertainer after another. "Rainbow" was the duet sung by Miss Barbara Stewart and Miss Elizabeth Ryder to open the program and was followed by "An Old-Fashioned Garden" with Miss Ernestine Prather as accompanist. Young Dwight Gibson gave two clever clog dances; Mrs. James Scott presented a delightful piano solo, "Rustle of Spring;" Mrs. Louise Bernhard briefly explained the phenomena of rainbows and some beliefs concerning them; and Mrs. Olive Busch quoted pretty lines of poetry and told of mythology involving "the bow of promise." An athletic waltz by Miss Barbara Scott, who was daintily clad in billowing ruffles of pink, was exquisitely executed, combining rhythm, grace and agility. Miss Dorothy Devon's sweet voice was heard in two solos, "Spring Is In My Heart Again," and a song from "Maytime," and Miss Beth Annette, who is opening a dancing class here, appeared in a pert costume of black and white to tap dance in two sprightly numbers.

Mrs. Louise Bernhard and her committee, comprised of Mesdames Vernon Yates, Lon Gibson, Ellen Hunt, Valma Maney and Clara Barnard, were in charge of the pleasant evening. Mrs. Grace Holzhauser presided at the short business session and a nominating committee composed of Mrs. Catherine Foster, Mrs. Olive Busch and Miss Ellen Jung was appointed to report at the next meeting. Miss Barbara Moulton, Ukiah's very attractive and only candidate for Mendocino county Queen at the Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta, told of Ukiah's active competitors for the honor, and the club voted to support the local aspirant. Miss Lorraine Mankins, on behalf of Jobs Daughters, extended to the Club an invitation to a Mothers Tea from two to five o'clock, May 8, at Masonic Temple.

POST HOST TO LADIES AT CHINESE SUPPER

More than 40 pair of chopsticks were in use at Veterans Memorial building Thursday evening when Veterans of Foreign Wars served Auxiliary members a tasty Chinese supper under flickering Oriental lanterns. Large black and red Chinese characters were effectively placed on the yellow crepe paper table covering and yellow Chinees roses were also part of the decoration. Elton Fuller was chairman of the novel affair and was assisted by Leonard Whitmore and Gus Wallach. A box of Chinese nuts was awarded Mr. and Mrs. Whitmore for the most efficient handling of chopsticks, the fact being most guests called for forks soon after the Chinese noodles were served. Cards were the diversion of the latter part of the evening. Two new members were initiated into the Auxiliary during the course of the evening by Mrs. Lillain Tatman, conductress. The neophytes were Mrs. Geneva Laird and Mrs. Mary James. Six members of Lakeport were special guests.

SHOWER GUILD MEMBER

The Wesleyan Guild gathered Wednesday last for its regular meeting, followed by a surprise shower honoring Mrs. Robert L. Sharp at the home of Mrs. Thelma Boulware. During the business session various members gave a dollar to the Guild, each telling of the novel way in which her particular contribution was earned, listing such means as washing the family car, foregoing the usual movie, or making a dress or selling home-grown vegetables or eggs.

Just before refreshments were served, little Bettly Lou Boulware entered the room prettily gowned in yellow and wheeling her doll carriage to Mrs. Sharp who was delightfully surprised to find it laden with gifts for the layette. Dainty pink and blue decorated the dining room and the table held a large doll in the center, while crepe paper nut cups fashioned as booties were at each place. The delicious refreshments were fruit salad, hot rolls and chocolate. Enjoying Mrs. Boulware's hospitality were the guest of honor, Mrs. Sharp, her mother-inlaw, Mrs. Elizabeth Sharp of Los Angeles, Mrs. Beth Halliday, Mrs. Mae Meek, Mrs. Gail Hall, Miss Joyce Stevens, Miss Dorothy Grilk, Miss Carol Grothe, Miss Gertrude Shook, Miss Lorraine Pike and Miss Ernestine Prather.

MERRY (THO' BUSY) MONTH OF MAY FOR AUXILIARY

Veterans Memorial building was beautifully decorated with masses of redbud for the social event enjoyed by American Legion Auxiliary members of Lewis White Unit No. 76 Wednesday. Mrs. Mae Laviletta, president, conducted a short business meeting early in the evening when plans were made for a food sale to be held Saturday, May 1, at City Meat Market. Mrs. Irene Schmidt, Mrs. Ruth Salle, Mrs. Elise Figone and Mrs. Ella McCarthy will supervise the sale of choice products from kitchens of various members of the group.

A Mothers Day program May 5 is planned when all members of the Auxiliary and the Legion are requested to bring their mothers to enjoy entertainment provided by a very able committee composed of Mrs. Maude Roberts and Mrs. Ardis Conoly. A committee was also appointed for still another important event on the May calendar of the Auxiliary when Mrs. Carrie Edwards, Mrs. Bernice Faas, Mrs. Ruth Salls and Miss Alta Dillingham will be in charge of a social.

During the evening Mrs. Ruth Salls was presented a gift from Mrs. Elise Figone, membership committee, for bringing in the largest number of new members during the recent drive in which the quota was made. A cake guessing contest resulted in awarding Mrs. Alta Dillingham a lovely prize. A third prize went to Mrs. Winifred Duffy who held the lucky number for a beautiful piece of handwork made and donated by Mrs. Laviletta. Dainty refreshments were served at tables decorated by fragrant lilacs and lighted by tapers of yellow and orchid. Cards were the diversion of the latter part of the evening, Mrs. Wilma Gielow being awarded first prize for bridge and Mrs. Emelia Mossi first prize for whist. The delightful affair was arranged by Mrs. Maude Roberts, Mrs. Esther Lowe, Mrs. Lillian Hurley, Mrs. Earl Mersinger and Mrs. Elise Figone. A number of the ladies are planning to drive to Eureka for the spring meeting of District One May 8 and 9, when Fort Humboldt Unit No. 212 Auxiliary will be hostess. Ruth Mathebat, department president, Ethel Flynn, department secretary and treasurer, and Mary Anne Holt, department rehabilitation chairman, will be there. A banquet and dance will be social highlights of the district program. Mrs. Ruth Salls, local rehabilitation chairman, reported she would visit Veterans at Mendocino State Hospital some time during May, when entertainment and refreshments will be provided.

JUST FOR FUN

Perhaps you have often wondered why a formal church wedding, conducted strictly in accord with etiquette, and with full regard for the sanctity of the ceremony, is so often followed by "high jinks" that are far from dignified — far from the serious vein of the preceding rituals. For a complete understanding it is necessary to go far back into antiquity.

There's that practice of throwing confetti or rice at the bride and groom—perhaps the oldest of existing marriage customs. Rice and other grains, in some nations, have been cast before a newly wedded couple or thrown over them, from time immemorable, because such cereals are regarded as emblematic of fertility and, incidentally, of prosperity in the form of bountiful crops. So the rice implies a wish, "May all your troubles be little ones" and "May you live happily and prosper."

Shoes were anciently looked upon as symbols of authority, and throwing the shoe signified the transfer of authority over the bride from father to husband. How strong are these old demonstrations which still persist long after the customs which they signified have ceased to exist. The word "obey" is generally omitted from the wedding ceremony in these modern days, yet enthusiastic friends continue to toss shoes—just for fun.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Figone, parents of the charming bride, and Miss Madeline Orr were the only witnesses. Mrs. Chapman is a native of Ukiah where she attended the local schools, graduating from high school with the class of '31. She is a gracious and beautiful young lady and has won many friends. Mr. Chapman is the son of Mrs. Laura May Chapman of Detroit and came here two years ago from Michigan. The young couple went to the Bay region for their honeymoon, returning to the state hospital, where both are employed, the first of the week.

NEW LEAGUE MEMBER

Mrs. Leroy Woodhead was received by the Catholic Ladies League as the newest member of the organization at its last meeting. St. Mary's hall was the scene of the gathering where places were laid for 12 at a pretty luncheon table adorned with lilacs. Following the luncheon and a short business session, a delightful social afternoon was enjoyed. Mrs. F. Wegner and Mrs. R. Kern formed the committee of two in charge of the enjoyable affair.

AUTHORS OF CANADA FORMED THEME OF CULTUS MEET

Cultus Club members looked northward for another angle of their year's study of "America The Beautiful" last night, "Our Canadian Neighbors In Literature" being the theme of the evening program which took place at Kosmos clubrooms. Mrs. Winifred Mitchell presented a carefully prepared and interesting review of biographical sketches of Canadian authors, while Mrs. Minnie Jamison read selections from some of their works. In the French Canadian group the following writers and their works were taken up: Louis Hemon, generally considered author of the most outstanding Canadian novel, "Marie Chapdelaine;" Octave Crémazie, first distinguished Canadian poet; Leon Le May, who translated "Evangeline" into French; and Adolph Routhier, author of "The Centurion."

The two divisions of literature were also represented in song by Miss Ernestine Prather who sang the Canadian anthem, "The Maple Leaf Forever," and a French-Canadian folk song, "Gai Lonla." Among English-Canadian poets discussed were Robert Service who wrote such verses as "The Law of the Yukon;" William Henry Drummond, poet; Bliss Carman, Canada's finest lyric poet; Pauline Johnson, writer of Indian poetry; and John McCrae, whose "In Flanders Fields" is so well known. Sam Slick and Stephen Leacock were the humorists represented in the list. Authors of fiction were Ralph Conner, whose works have enjoyed great popularity in Canada as well as the United States; Gilbert Parker, writer of more than 30 volumes, and though a native of Canada a globe-trotter most of his life; Ernest Thompson Seton, famed for his animal stories; and L. M. Montgomery, authores sof "Anne of Green Gables."

Mrs. Freda Joseph, as hostess at the delightful meeting, had decorated the club rooms with beautiful spring flowers and arranged for the serving of refreshments in two courses following the literary program.

JOBS DAUGHTERS ENJOYED A KIDDIES PARTY

Jobs Daughters enjoyed one of the happiest evenings of the year Monday when they met for a children's party following the regular business session. Dressed as cunning tots and entering into the spirit of the affair, each member came prepared to do some stunt to earn her supper. Gleefully, they witnessed each other's performances, which included children's songs, dances, recitations and clever burlesquing of a child's first piano recital. A large U-shaped table was set with places for 45 members, their mothers and Eastern Star members, all of whom found the evening highly entertaining. Brightly colored toys on the table amused the "youngsters," and refreshments of ice cream, animal crackers and lollypops were served. The evening ended with ring-around-the-rosy and other frolicsome games. Virginia Smith planned the party as chairman of the evening and was assisted by Lorraine Hurley, Irene Sandelin and Mary Dale Folsom. Mrs. Leta Thornton, guardian, was also present.

Plans were completed for a Mothers Tea on May 8 at Masonic Temple to which all mothers and daughters are invited. A very small fee will be charged and refreshments and entertainment will be provided from two to five o'clock. Proceeds are to be used for added paraphernalia for the rapidly growing order.

PEACHES AND RHODODENDRONS

Of course it's too early for the sort of peaches that grow on trees, but the sort pictured here are perennial on the Mendocino county coast. They are Augusta Bedell, Edith Swanson and Ann Fraser, who are aiding in preparations for the first annual Rhododendron Festival to be held on the Mendocino Coast May 1 and 2. Oh, the Rhododendrons? Yes, they're blooming in profusion on the Mendocino Coast.

FINGER PRINTING OF SELLERS OF LIQUOR IS GOING FORWARD

Misunderstanding Is, In Some Instances, Encountered

Liquor Control Officer F. L. Fisk is busily engaged in getting the fingerprints of all persons engaged in the sale of liquor in this county following the issuance of an order such a requisite was necessary to safeguard liquor selling.

Those Involved Here.

In Mendocino county, Mr. Fisk estimates, there are probably 250 people so engaged in business and whose fingerprinting will be required in order they may obtain liquor licenses.

Both Must Submit.

Contrary to the contentions some of those selling liquor advance, if the liquor license is held in the name of a wife of one thus engaged the husband, as well as the wife, will have to submit to finger printing and, if the license is applied for in the name of the husband and the wife is connected with the sale of liquor, both will have to be fingerprinted.

All Are Agreeable.

Up to the present time, Officer Fisk has not encountered any serious opposition to taking the prints, although in a few instances the mechanics of the order are not understood and explanations are necessary.

LOCAL MAN A NEAR VICTIM

Ukiah Autoists Evade Accident A Lake Driver Suffered

A local motorist, while enroute from Sacramento early one morning last week, by the narrowest margin escaped being covered by a terrific rock and mud slide beyond Clearlake, but Kenneth Lee, who came by a few seconds later, was not so lucky and ran into it. The slide almost completely buried the highway. Mr. Lee's car was turned over and completely wrecked at one o'clock in the morning. The slide was still tumbling rocks and debris from the cliff when the accident occurred and continued for some time afterwards.

Machine Destroyed.

Mr. Lee was not injured, beyond a few bruises, although the machine was practically a total loss. Within a few minutes after the accident, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Corson, of Nice, arrived from the south and assisted Mr. Lee from the wreck. The rock was still tumbling down. Shortly afterward, a man said to have been Roy Bucknell, Upper Lake, also came from the south and drove Mr. Lee back to Clearlake Oaks.

Spot Was Neglected.

No flares were out, the slide occurring without warning almost at the moment of Mr. Lee's arrival. The highway department was notified and not only placed warnings but towed the Lee machine to an Oaks garage.

Hard To Pass.

Through the night cars had difficulty in getting around the mass of debris without slipping over a bank. At daylight, road crews began to clear away the deposit, one of the heaviest slides known in recent years along the East Shore.

Mrs. George O'Quest went to San Francisco Sunday for a brief visit.

Those Who Will Get Crop Co-operation Must Be Active

April 30 has been set by the State Agricultural Conservation Committee as the final date on which work sheets may be filed by California farmers for the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program, C. S. Myszka, county farm advisor announced today.

What Is Necessary.

"All farmers who wish to participate in the 1937 program are urged to fill out work sheets and file them immediately with the county farm advisor or county committee," Mr. Myszka stated. "Filling out a work sheet places no obligation on the farmer, but one must be filled out for each farm he owns or operates if he is to be eligible for payment under the program. Farmers who do not turn in work sheets by April 30 will not be eligible to take part in the 1937 program. Work sheets need not be filled out by farmers who filed work sheets in 1936, and who are operating the same land in 1937. However, farmers who did not file work sheets for the 1936 program, or who are farming a different area of land in 1937 than in 1936, will need to fill out work sheets. Assistance in filling out work sheets and in planning 1937 farming operations under the program may be obtained at the county farm advisor's office."

Special Correspondence of The Press

ANDERSON VALLEY, April 27. —Lucius Grover who has been a valley resident the past 30 years, passed away at Ukiah General Hospital Tuesday morning after a week's illness. He had been moved to the hospital only the day before and was not thought to be critically ill. His sister, Mrs. Jas. Rose, of Ukiah, with Mr. Rose, came over to care for him when he became ill a week ago and had him moved to Ukiah. He has made his home on the F. A. Rawles ranch the past 16 or 17 years. Funeral services and interment were in Brentwood, his former home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Deady Farrer are proud parents of a seven and a quarter pound son who arrived at Healdsburg General Hospital April 22, wit hMrs. H. V. Nichols, valley nurse, and Dr. D. C. Want A Cemetery District.

A movement is on foot here, sponsored by the Farm Center to form an Anderson Valley Cemetery District. The committee appointed by M. C. Gowan, chairman of the Farm Center, is having petitions prepared which will be circulated through the valley to give residents an opportunity to express themselves on whether they wish to form such a district. The project would be financed by a special tax which would probably be one mill. The valley cemeteries are all in a deplorable condition and something should be done without further delay. The committee is headed by V. R. Rawles, who has spent considerable time studying the law covering the formation of cemetery districts, and Mrs. D. P. Lawson, Mrs. J. T. Farrer, Mrs. Joel Reilly and Mrs. R. E. Brown.

At Nunn Ranch.

Mrs. Alice Oliver, of Vallejo, is passing a few weeks as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Henry Nunn, on the Nunn ranch north of Philo. Mrs. Oliver is a sister of Sam Gentry who resides on the Nunn ranch also.

Mrs. H. V. Nichols and Mrs. G. E. McAbee, members of the board of trustees of the Anderson union school, were in Ukiah lately on business connected with their school.

An interesting Unity Club meeting was held at Con Creek school. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Geo. Gowan, Mrs. Joe Arnold and Mrs. Perry Hulbert. Following a business session Mrs. C. T. Ingram gave a travelogue of a motor trip over the Siskiyous she enjoyed last season and pictured so well that, by the time he finished, everyone was in a mood to travel. As a happy ending to the afternoon the hostesses served cake, coffee and homemade ice cream. The next meeting will be May first at the C. T. Ingram home.

Mrs. Mary Cable, of Los Angeles, but formerly of this place, arrived recently for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Roy Lycky.

Mrs. Lula Nissen left last week for San Francisco for medical attention.

FORMER UKIAH LADY INJURED

Dropping Medicine In Nose At The Time Of Accident

Mrs. W. P. Mariner received a severe cut on the back of her head when she fell at her home Sunday morning at Lakeport.

Doctoring At Time.

The unfortunate accident occurred after she had administered some nose drops and had put her head back. She apparently became over-balanced and fell backwards striking her head on the dining room table. Mr. Mariner was down town at the time and Mrs. Mariner was unable to call for help. She lost considerable blood but is getting along nicely at this writing. Mr. and Mrs. Mariner have many friends in Ukiah, where they at one time resided.

IS RECUPERATING

Mrs. Edna Smith is home after having been in San Francisco the past several weeks where she underwent a serious operation. Mrs. Smith, her friends will be glad to know, is satisfactorily convalescing from the ordeal she lately passed through.

RESORT IMPROVED

H. Schneider, proprietor of Le Trianon on beautiful Blue Lakes, was in town Friday on business. He has improved the attractive resort during the winter months and it is an especially delightful spot at this season of the year.

Redwood Valley News

Special Correspondence of The Press

REDWOOD VALLEY, April. 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Davy and brother H. Davy and wife of San Francisco were callers at the E. R. Jones one day lately. Mrs. Hugh Davy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Clemens of San Francisco, property owners in Round Valley. Mr. Davy, who has recently undergone two emergency operations is to return to the valley soon and will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jones to recuperate from his illness.

Attended Cooking School.

A number of the ladies of the community attended the cooking school Wednesday held at the court house by the Home Demonstration agent at large, who came up from Berkeley for the demonstration. There will be a similar meeting next month which will be held at the home of Mrs. Jones.

Has Returned Home.

Mrs. Ella Stansell has returned home from Ukiah General Hospital where she recently underwent an operation. The friends of Mrs. Stansell will be glad to hear she is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Yarbrough and son, Lloyd, were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Mitten, Willits.

Mrs. Annie Jones, who is a lover of flowers, has near her outdoor living room a garden of tulips which has fascinated many by sheer loveliness in its riot of colors. Besides the tulips other varieties of flowers have found admittance to her garden.

Garage Painted.

The Redwood Valley Garage has been given a coat of paint the past week.

Contractor Russell Ells has a crew leveling off a hill at Cummings which will be used by Ray Davis for an auto camp site. This will be a great improvement for that part of the Redwood Highway.

HUNTERS SAY SNOW IS DEEP

Winter Weather Still Prevailing In The Upper Levels

(The Willits News)

Henry Haehl went up to Covelo last week on one of his regular business trips and while there he and Raymond Hill decided to go hunting in the high mountains east of Round Valley. When they reached the 3500 foot level they found the ground still covered with snow and higher up it was several feet deep on the level.

River Running Full.

That fork of Eel river was carrying a lot of water.

Got Two Wildcats.

Messrs. Haehl and Hill succeeded in kiling two very large wildcats and their varmint dogs picked up the trail of a panther which they chased for several miles but finally had to give it up when their horses broke through the ice-crusted snow. After this they got on the trail of a bear but had to give it up for the same reason.

Sherwood Mill To Get A Road

Russell Ells has a crew building a logging road in Sherwood Valley to connect a tract of 20,000,000 feet of virgin redwood with the sawmill on the Pettey ranch. The road will be five miles in length and will take about two months more to complete.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Cox and sons enjoyed Sunday at their summer home at Camp Ukiah on Blue Lakes.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Of all the stern questions that have tormented the mind of man through the ages this is probably the most persistent: "If God is good why has He made the kind of a world as we are facing?" This will be the subject of the sermon next Sunday morning. A complete answer to this question can not be found, but some gleams of light may make this problem a bit less difficult to face. Sunday school at 9:45 and Young People's meeting at 6:30.

'June' Hufft To Join The Press Democrat

L. V. Hufft, foreman of the mechanical department of The Dispatch-Democrat, has accepted a position on The Santa Rosa Press-Democrat. On several occasions in years past Mr. Hufft, who is recognized by printers along the coast as one of the ablest men in his craft, has been offered a post in some of the high class printshops of San Francisco, but preferred to remain in Ukiah, where he is respected and liked by all; but now that the time has come for him to leave he is going to a shop where he is well known, and will join a crew of Ukiah trained printers who have secured lucrative positions on The Press-Democrat.—Milton Leedom, Edward Michaelson and E. L. Keenan, now employed on the Press-Democrat force, are graduates of Ukiah printing plants.

RESERVATION LANDS PRIZE

Round Valley Natives Carry Off Honors At Flower Show

Special Correspondence of The Press

COVELO, April 26.—Mrs. Maud Short made a hurried trip to Eureka, returning Sunday to be with her daughter, Phyllis, who was quite ill and now recovering. Mr. and Mrs. Short are building a fine log house at their home at Red Hill.

Switch Locations.

It's moving day every day now for Johnson and Storie, who are moving their garage and machine shop into Jake Short's garage. The building which they have occupied has been bought from G. M. Biggar by Gravier Bros., who will use it as a warehouse.

Improving Highway.

Street work has been done around town this week and up and down East Lane, making travel less hazardous. The grader has also run out on Dos Rios road nearly to the slide which is at last counquered by means of hydraulic washings and a large culvert to carry the scourings under the road.

Bought A Truck.

John Albonico took delivery of an International pickup truck Thursday from Walter Winters.

Had A Frost.

A strong north wind blew all day Wednesday and was followed by quite a frost.

Honored By Shower.

On Saturday friends old and new (some so new they practically slept all the time) gathered at Hotel Covelo for a shower for Mrs. Mervan Hill. There was singing and there were "pieces" spoken, and then came the shower—Gifts beautiful, useful, ornamental and comical to testify to the esteem in which the community holds this young couple. Fruit punch was served and cookies in appropriate wrappings.

Just an hour or two—a pause in the day's occupation to look happily forward with our young friends, and backward with a sigh and a smile for memories of other days..

Had A Clinic.

County Nurse Mrs. Katherine Brown and Dr. Edith Young held a well baby clinic Tuesday in town. A similar clinic will be held on the Reservation sometime in May.

The Forest Service telephone line crew opened the season's work last week.

Had Pneumonia.

Lee O'Ferrall, of Bald Mountain, is recovering from a siege of pneumonia.

Out Once More.

Fred Lynch, Sr., who has been poorly since a round with influenza is perking up again.

In From Mina.

Will Stevenson, of Spy Rock, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim McKinley, of Mina, and small son Donald were in town Thursday. They all seem to have wintered well. Mrs. McKinley said that while one heard a good deal about snow in Summit Valley that road to Covelo was open a month earlier than the one over Lake Mountain over which Mina gets its mail and supplies via Alder Point.

Goes To Yountville.

The Fred Reeds were in from Buck Mountain and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Reed came in briefly to prepare for Mr. Reed's trip to Yountville hospital where he will undergo a slight operation. He is a World War veteran.

Keep At Work.

The county bulldozer, the new one, and a crew of men are on hand continually. It is just one of those things.

Came By Plane.

Mac Duffie, of Berkeley, who owns the former Codding ranch at Hull Valley, has the right idea, he flew in recently and went out to the ranch for a short stay. The plane came in on the first bright day we have had in some time. We heard it long before we could see it, so high above the clouds.

Keeping At It.

Covelo is still raising champions. Mary Haydon won the California Crusaders' public speaking medal, on American Citizenship, in Ukiah last week and Ethel English Hurt won it last year, and the two Hopper girls are also champions, Doris won a milking contest at State Fair, and Pauline a riding contest last summer. We have lots more girls just like them, and all of these girls are easy on the eyes, too.

Committed Matrimony.

The latest news of Douglas Henderson is he has joined the ranks of Benedicts and was married to Mrs. Vera Blair in Santa Rosa recently. The happy pair will live in Santa Rosa. Mrs. Henderson is almost a Round Valley girl, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Johnson, of Poonkinny, and a niece of Mrs. Albert Brown and of Vann Bros. May the young couple live long and prosper!

Leith Beard rode over the mountain from Spy Rock early in the week to pass the night with her friend, Elaine Henderson.

Mrs. Fred Herzer has returned from a visit to Los Angeles, and Dr. Herzer has also gotten back from a business trip to Sacramento.

Mercile Long visited the old home town briefly last week.

Mrs. Mae Perry has moved into one of Enoch Thomson's new houses. It will be nice to have her closer by.

Northern Rodeo Rated Excellent

(The Willits News)

Merrill Williams and Norman Sawyers attended the big rodeo at Red Bluff over the last weekend. They report a fine show and the largest group of bronc riders at any show in California. Coming early in the season, they have no competition and all the riders on the coast are there. Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Henrich of Willits also went to see this show.

Won First Prize.

Round Valley Reservation school was well represented at Wild Flower Shows 10 days ago. Teacher Mrs. Ruth Hauck undaunted by stormy weather drove to San Francisco with the wild flowers collected by the children, and the artistic posters they had made. Containers, too, they had painted with original Indian designs, and in spite of the very late season here, the Reservation school won first prize for native wildflowers. Ambrose Duncan, a young Indian lad, who had displayed great botanical interest, both this year and last, and who had made some very interesting posters, accompanied his teacher, to get his first glimpse of the great city. This school won second prize last year at the State Show. The Reservation school also made three handsome and interesting posters which were sent to Sacramento Chamber of Commerce Flower Show April 17 and 18. Ransom Anderson, Leroy Russ and Ambrose Duncan made these. One gave names, common and Indian, of food plants, another of medicinal plants, while the third bore the name of the school. It was intended to send flowers earlier, but that was prevented by the slide early in the day; later would have been too late.

For Native Lassies.

Messrs. Slaugh, Ale and another Indian Service official came in over the weekend to look at land on the Reservation and Mr. Slaugh to make plans for 4-H Club gardens for Indian girls and boys.

Now In Star.

Thursday night Charlie Lovell was initiated into the order of Eastern Star, Augusta Chapter, of which his daughter, Mrs. Dallas Winters, is Worthy Matron. Mrs. Winters and her aunt Mrs. Lloyd Brown made a hurried trip to Silverado Hospital to visit Ted Haydon Tuesday. It was decided an operation would give Ted a better chance so he was taken to San Francisco and Mrs. Brown went with him.

Is Coming Home.

Mrs. Albert Winters who recently underwent a minor operation at Howard Memorial Hospital, will be able to come home shortly. The town seems pretty big without her.

Weather Is Ideal.

Warm, bright weather seems too good to be true, after so much bad weather. Tractors are humming busily about where the ground is not too soft to hold them up, and alfalfa looks good enough to eat, and taller than usual at this season.

Were In City.

Mrs. G. M. Biggar, Mrs. J. H. Rohrbough and Mrs. Philip Rohrbough enjoyed the past week around the Bay. Mrs. Biggar attended the District Convention, C. F. W. C., at Hotel Fairmont, and the other ladies visited relatives.

Is Improving.

A visit to Mrs. Frank Spurlock finds her much better, and glad to see her friends. Mr. Spurlock, too, is able to be about again after a siege of influenza.

Mrs. Archie Moore and Miss Zella Hill went to Willits Sunday. Our local beautician passed a few days visiting her sister, Mrs. Charlie English at the old Diamond D.

An Enjoyable Affair.

The High school gave its annual Mother-Daughter banquet Friday night. Everything went off very smoothly, and about 90 guests were served, a testimonial to the good training received by pupils in the Home Economics course.

She Was Ill.

Our obliging and capable Assistant Postmaster, Mrs. Ella Osborne, has been sick abed the past week with a painful attack of pleurisy.

In Old Job.

Charlie Lovell has been appointed peace officer at Covelo. Years ago Mr. Lovell was constable of Round Valley township. Constable Harry Newberg is still quite ill.

DIRECTORS DETERMINED

Still More Trouble.

For the past two weeks efforts have been made on the part of the Roads and Traffic Committee, of which A. R. O'Brien is Chairman, and President Wm. P. Filmer of The Golden Gate Bridge District with Herbert Fleishhacker, Chairman of the City Park system to straighten out a road barrier that exists at the Palace of Fine Arts building. It had been hoped Chairman Fleishhacker might see his way clear to permit the Bridge District to occupy a street the Park Commission has had practically closed a t the Fine Arts building for years past in order that a barrier might be broken and free access to the on and off ramps to the bridge at that point given motorists.

Became Deadlocked.

An impasse was arrived at and neither the roads and traffic committee or Chairman Fleishhacker would recede. Determined to protect autoists the bridge board, following receipt of a report from Chairman O'Brien Chairman Fleishhacker would not consent to opening the street, the board of directors ordered suit against the city and Park Commission started with the view of condemning the land sought. The action promises to open up a spirited legal battle, but the bridge directors are determined to secure the land.

Another Abuse Fought.

Under a Senate Bill introduced by Senator H. W. Slater, of Sonoma county, motorists would be privileged to use almost two-thirds of the approaches to the Bridge, without actually crossing over the Span and, as long as they did not attempt to continue on over the bridge, would not be called upon to pay any tolls. These approaches, which the Slater bill would allow to be used without toll payments, were constructed at a cost of millions of dollars and actually compose a part of the bridge system proper and, regardless of how the legislation goes, the bridge directors intend to have the approaches patrolled and force those who would use the approaches for pleasure riding, without contributing toward the upkeep of the bridge, to pay tolls or keep off bridge grants. Not only would the bridge district lose tolls it is entitled to under the bridge act to collect, but impossible slowness would prevail because of the speed at which the pleasure riders, in most cases out to get the air and a view of the bridge and the ocean, would travel.

Ex-Secretary Of Elks Lodge Dead

William Julius Folz, 65, died at his home in Willits last week following an illness which had kept him confined to his home the past six months. He was born in Chicago, September 20, 1871. Mr. Folz, while secretary of Santa Rosa Elks Lodge, built up a large membership. Funeral services were held at St. Anthony's Catholic church, Father Urban Riordan officiating. Besides his widow and daughter, Mr. Folz is survived by a brother, Charles M. Folz, who came from Los Angeles to atttend the services.

POOR LAMB CROP

Chester Linser while down from his Bell Springs mountain ranch reports the lamb crop will be only about 10 per cent this year, as the lambs came in early February when the ground was covered with snow.

HAD AN ACCIDENT

Louis Fisher broke his ankle when he slipped and fell while walking on some rocks on Foster mountain and is at Howard Memorial Hospital, Willits, for care.
